

Y-12 LOGOS

Throughout the history of the Y-12 National Security Complex, there have been a number of logos used to represent the important activities taking place. Several of the logos are shown here in an array surrounding the original Manhattan Project insignia. The Manhattan Project insignia was worn by Army Service men and women assigned to work on the Top Secret Manhattan Project. The insignia depicts a white cloud of plasma with an electrical charge streaking toward and splitting the atom. In the cloud of plasma is the red-outlined blue star on white background emblem of the Army Service Forces.
